

10-03-1984-p. 2

84. T. O'Neill

- 85. Joan Bailey
- 86. Karen Norn
- 87. Kay Cannon
- 88. Trish Sheptak
- 89. Tom Selis
- 90. Jim Giles
- 91. Brian Hask
- 92. Maria Kulinski
- 93. Laura Haskett
- 94. Kristin Dikus
- 95. Joe Chisek
- 96. Stef Diker
- 97. Paul Janich
- 98. Suzie Hedder
- 99. Connie Kelly
- 100. Cindy Rodriguez
- 101. Henry Hazzard
- 102. Keith Stalker
- 103. Brian Beseck
- 104. Jan Wimmer
- 105. Dave Supko
- 106. Sam Stark 135
- 107. Steve Sagarzi
- 108. Jerry Fortney 72
- 109. Ed O'Neil
- 110. Tom Allen
- 111. R. Wilson
- 112. Phil Belk
- 113. Frank Shema
- 114. Sully Curtis
- 115. Sharon Lamas
- 116. JOANNE TROSE
- 117. Teri Counterman
- 118. Carol Gee 101
- 119. Jeremy Wildenstein 111
- 120. Patricia Forman
- 121. Amy Petherlin
- 122. Jennifer Rocco

10-03-84 - Forest City, p. 2

- 123. Joe Wojcik
- 124. Jean Helgren
- 125. Keith Thompson
- 126. Jean Msekuk
- 127. Loui Homan
- 128. Stephanie Pites
- 129. Jeanette Waring
- 130. John Reeder
- 131. Lisa Sukoski
- 132. Brian Kane
- 133. Tom Wildenstein
- 134. Tammy Burre
- 135. Mary H. Rizer
- 136. Lucia Jabowski
- 137. Andy Bundo

a very successful day at Forest City again. Word, of course, has spread through the school that SRP was on the scene, and about 60 more students used the Library today than yesterday, and I'm sure that yesterday was a record in itself.

- Laura's boyfriend, Glen Harte, again went out of his way today to say hello to me. I responded with an enthusiastic hello.
- Harold Jones - #10 in this list - is from Clinton Township. He was present at the Pioneer Day Celebration this year and/or the year before. He came into the Library during Period I.

10-03-1984-p. 3

The kids at Forest City seem very ^{very} innocent, for the most part. The teachers are friendly enough but none or very very few of them are strong and expert role models for the kids. The principal, Lou Zefran, is somewhat of a martinet.

- Yesterday I was looking at a large picture book on ancient Rome and when I was finished with it I put it on one of the tables where I knew the students would see it. At one point today, I looked up and two little boys (#59 & 60 in the above list: Andy Krall & John Reeder) were having a grand time looking at the wonderfully forthright statues of nude Roman men and women that are photographed in the book.

- David St. Ledger again today came for a visit during the final period of the day; a very relaxed and lowkeyed visit -- we were both very tired. He said that he hoped I would be returning to Forest City again in the near future.

- I filled out a form in the Business office today -- a W-4 form I believe, & so taxes will be taken out of my substitute teaching pay when I receive my check -- probably on November 1st.

- When I returned from Forest City today, I immediately went down and washed myself and some clothes in the Tinker Creek. The water was very cold but not at all un-pleasant for washing my body & hair; curiously, when I had finished washing and re-dressed and then stood in the Tinker Creek to wash some clothes, the water seemed cold on my feet and legs. I sprang up the hill and hung out the clothes on the clothesline out back and they dried quickly in the very enthusiastic late afternoon breeze. Having hung out the laundry, I decided that I would move into the tent, which is where I am now seated. The tent works spectacularly well in containing the heat from the oil filled electric radiator. I swept out the tent and then moved my bed in -- mattress on the floor along one side